Community

- Quint Seckler has been a part of the New Mexico Swimming Association for 54 years. However, he began to make his biggest impact 37 years ago. When he started coaching, he began to make an impact on the community around him. He helped foster the Sundance Community and is now a leader in the community. Coaches often look to him for help and guidance.
- He has also made a large impact on the swimmers he has coached. He has touched the lives of thousands of athletes ranging from 4-22 years old. Not only has he brought many swimmers and teams to victories by fostering good technique and stroke work, but he also helped athletes grow personally and intellectually, by fostering good work ethic, community, and communication. His athletes and their families became members of his own family because of the bond he has made with them.

Family

- Wife Tracy Seckler for 36 years
- Children: Megan Seckler (28) and Madison Seckler (23).
