

Hall of Fame Nominee's Biography: Becky Robertson

Becky Robertson is a legendary figure in New Mexico high school athletics, whose unparalleled success as a golf coach has brought immense honor and distinction to the State of New Mexico. Her dedication, coaching prowess, and commitment to her athletes have cemented her status as one of the most impactful coaches in state history.

Sports Involved: Girls Golf

Outstanding Achievements and Accomplishments in Athletics/Sports:

Becky Robertson's coaching record is simply extraordinary, setting benchmarks that are unlikely to be surpassed.

- Most State Championships in New Mexico History (14 State Titles): As the Head Girls Golf Coach at Goddard High School in Roswell, NM, Becky Robertson achieved an unparalleled feat, leading her teams to 14 State Championships. This remarkable accomplishment stands as the most by any head coach in any sport in New Mexico history, a testament to her sustained excellence and dominance in girls golf. These championships were won in the following years: 1990, 1991, 1992, 1993, 1994, 1995, 1997, 1998, 1999, 2000, 2001, 2002, 2003, and 2005.
- National Record for Consecutive State Championships: Her teams achieved a national record for consecutive High School Girls Golf State Championships, showcasing a level of sustained excellence that is virtually unmatched across the country.
- Developed Multiple Individual State Champions (4 Individual Titles): Beyond team success, Coach Robertson mentored and developed four individual state champions, highlighting her ability to cultivate elite talent and guide individual athletes to their highest potential.
- National High School Girls Golf Coach of the Year (2004): Her exceptional coaching career and sustained success were recognized on a national level when she was named the National High School Girls Golf Coach of the Year in 2004. This prestigious award from the National Federation of High Schools acknowledges coaches who demonstrate longevity of success, and Robertson was the first New Mexico high school coach to receive this honor.
- Featured in Sports Illustrated "Faces in the Crowd" (Twice): Her remarkable achievements earned her recognition twice in Sports Illustrated's "Faces in the Crowd," a national spotlight for her incredible coaching accomplishments.
- Coached Elite Collegiate and Professional Golfers: Her influence extended to the highest levels of the sport through her student-athletes:
 - JoJo Robertson (Daughter): A four-time State Golf Champion under Becky, JoJo went on to play at Oklahoma State, win two USGA Pub Links Championships, compete for the USA Curtis Cup Team, and play in two US Opens. She is currently the Head Women's Golf Coach at Texas Tech.
 - Gerina Piller (LPGA Tour Player and Olympian): Coach Robertson also coached Gerina Piller, who became an LPGA star and competed in the 2016 Rio Olympics.

- Greg Robertson (Son): Played on an NCAA National Championship team at Oklahoma State and later became the Head Men's Coach at Kent State University and Oklahoma State University. The success of her own children and other prominent golfers she coached speaks volumes about her coaching philosophy and impact.

High School Accomplishments:

- 14 State HS Girls Golf Championships (1990, 1991, 1992, 1993, 1994, 1995, 1997, 1998, 1999, 2000, 2001, 2002, 2003, 2005)
- 4 Individual Player State Championships
- National High School Girls Golf Coach of the Year (2004)
- National Record for High School Consecutive State Championships

Professional Jobs and Accomplishments:

- Teacher, Special Education K-12, Roswell School District (1976-2006): In addition to her coaching duties, Becky Robertson dedicated three decades to educating students in special education, demonstrating her commitment to nurturing and developing young individuals both on and off the golf course.

Honors:

- National HS Girls Golf Coach of the Year (2004)
- Sports Illustrated "Faces in the Crowd" (Twice)
- National Record for Public School Girls Golf Consecutive State Titles
- New Mexico High School Coaches Association (NMHSCA) Golf Coach of the Year (2001)
- NFHS Southwest Regional Coach of the Year for Golf (2004)
- Nominated Educator of the Year Goddard HS

Community Involvement:

Becky Robertson's contributions extended beyond the golf course into various community and athletic organizations:

- State Certified Ombudsman for residents in local nursing homes.
- State Special Olympics for Golf: Dedicated many years to supporting and promoting golf within the New Mexico Special Olympics program.
- USGA Rules Official in New Mexico: Served on the USGA Rules Committee for major events in New Mexico, contributing her expertise to the integrity of the sport.
- NMAA State HS Golf Committee: Played an active role on the New Mexico Activities Association (NMAA) State High School Golf Committee, helping to shape the future of high school golf in the state.

Family:

Becky Robertson's family is deeply ingrained in the fabric of golf and athletics.

- Husband, Andy Robertson: A highly respected football coach for 54 years.
- Daughter, JoJo Robertson: A four-time State Golf Champion under her mother's coaching, a successful collegiate golfer at Oklahoma State (winning two USGA Pub Links Championships), a member of the USA Curtis Cup Team, and a participant in two US Opens. She is currently the Head Women's Golf Coach at Texas Tech.
- Son, Greg Robertson: Played collegiate golf at Oklahoma State on an NCAA National Championship Team and has served as Head Men's Coach at Kent State University and Oklahoma State University.

Additional Comments:

Becky Robertson's enduring legacy is built on an unmatched record of success, a profound impact on her athletes, and a lifelong commitment to the sport of golf and community service. Her 14 state championships are a testament to her extraordinary coaching ability and mark her as a truly unique and deserving Hall of Fame inductee who has brought immense pride and honor to the State of New Mexico.

Sources